Apartment Block Swept by Flames

WINNIPEG, Dec. 5.—Firefighters battled for four hours on the roof of the 30-year-old Rosemount apartment block in the Fort Rouge district here yesterday before bringing a blaze which caused more than $100,000 damage, under control.

New Canadian War Wrinkle; Motor Toboggans for Scouts

PETAWAWA CAMP, Ont., Dec. 5.—Anti-tank gunners at this Canadian army artillery training centre find the motorized toboggan a valuable adjunct of winter training operations.

Armed with powerful six-pounder guns, a battery blazed away at moving tank targets today while a couple of scouts on toboggans stood by ready to dash forward on observation or reconnaissance.

The motorized toboggans are about 10 feet long and are driven by a small motor which operates a track down the middle of the toboggan. They carry two men in addition to the driver and are steered by a lever which swings runners underneath the nose of the toboggan. They can do 35 miles an hour in dry snow.

Jap Homes to Be Utilized For Whites

Utilization as soon as possible of housing facilities in Vancouver's Little Tokyo was promised the housing committee of the Prices Board Friday by Mrs. Ald. George Buscombe, newly-appointed member of the board.

He said he would arrange a meeting next week if possible with Glen W. McPherson, custodian of enemy alien property, to complete plans for aiding the housing shortage by transfer to white hands of accommodation there.

Ald. Buscombe pointed out that settlement of Japtown, as well as use of Japanese houses throughout the city, by Occidental families "would eliminate to some extent the possibility of Japs coming back and settling in our midst again."

RENTAL BASIS

He said he understood that many of the Japanese properties could be sold to white buyers, as was done with the Japanese fishing fleet.

He added that "quite a number of applications" to remodel dwellings in order to rent rooms had been received at the City Hall.

Mrs. Gordon Selman, chairman of the housing committee, pointed out that Japanese premises should be available on a rental basis if provision of housing accommodation for soldiers and their dependents and war workers were intended.

She said the committee had written Ottawa for clarification of a suggestion that the committee find accommodation for civilians as well as soldiers and war workers.

"The time has come that something has got to be done about accommodation," she told the meeting.

DISCOURAGE NEWCOMERS

The greatest need, members agreed, was for two-room housekeeping suites in the $25 a month class.

Ald. Buscombe suggested the Federal government be approached with suggestions that servicemen's wives and relatives be discouraged from following them to the coast and remaining here, and A. G. O. Bahr, representing Vancouver Board of Trade suggested the advertisements in preparation draw to the attention of easterners that there are no extra houses in Vancouver.

No survey will be made by the committee until a compulsory one is ordered from Ottawa.

Prof. Gunning Will Tell About Meteorites
