IN THE MATTER OF THE CLAIM OF

FUSAKICHI YAMAMOTO.

PROCEEDINGS AT HEARING.

20 APPEARANCES:

J.W.G. HUNTER, Esq.,	appearing for the Dominion Government.
S.M. CHERNIACK, Esq.,	appearing for the Claimant.

D.J. HANDFORD, Esq.,	Official Interpreter.

FUSAKICHI YAMAMOTO, the claimant herein, being first duly sworn, testified through the Interpreter as follows:

MR. CHERNIACK: In this matter, my lord, we are withdrawing the claim for the boat which was sold by the Japanese Fishing Vessel Disposal Committee subject to the usual reservation. I ask leave to amend showing the net at the bottom. We are withdrawing the white net. It was not declared. The other items total $108.00, making a grand total claim of 10 $208.00, none of which was sold by the Custodian.

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. CHERNIACK:

Q Mr. Yamamoto, I show you two typewritten statements. Were these prepared in accordance with your instructions? A: Yes.

Q Are these your signatures? A: Yes.

Q Do you swear the contents to be true to the best of your knowledge and recollection?

A Yes.

20 MR. CHERNIACK: I file as Exhibit 1 both documents as they both relate to personal property.

(DOCUMENTS MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 1).

MR. CHERNIACK: As Exhibit 2 I am filing on behalf of my learned friend his analysis.

(ANALYSIS MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 2).

MR. CHERNIACK: Your Lordship will note from Exhibit 1 that all items are set out as to the date of purchase and the original price paid and the estimated value at date of evacuation. The same 30 applies to the net. The statement of Exhibit 1, my lord, is that the goods were left in the house he rented from the Provincial Cannery at Rivers Inlet, British Columbia, and your Lordship will note when you receive Exhibit 2, that the first column sets out a general declaration made by the claimant on April 17th, 1942. My lord, may I ask my learned friend to produce from his file a copy of a letter sent to the British Columbia Security Commission dated June 9th, 1943. This letter, my lord, is a 10 letter from the Custodian's Office to the B. C. Security Commission relating to Mrs. and Mrs. Fusikichi Yamamoto. The letter states:

"Further to ours of May 26th dealing with the above Japanese, we have now had a call from Mr. Johnston, the manager of the Beaver Cannery. Mr. Johnston tells us that when the Japanese were evacuated from the nearby Provincial Cannery, he moved such things as they left to safety at the Beavery Cannery, the former installation being unoccupied.
20 Two naval men were on guard at the Beaver Cannery and later a winter watchman, though due to sickness this watchman was later replaced with another.

"Mr. Johnston does not remember any baby clothes, but he does remember moving a good comforter and blanket which he strung up on a line at the Beavery Cannery in order to prevent their getting damp. He noticed that these were gone when he returned to the Cannery in the spring of this year. As 30 to the other things packed in the kori, he just put in what he could find.

"This office is satisfied that Mr. Johnston himself is a very reliable man, but as in other cases inwhich remote places up the coast are concerned, Japanese property has been subject to much pilfering. This has been very largely the fault of the Japanese themselves since they frequently took no real precautions for the safety oftheir belongings but merely left them locked up in shacks with flimsy doors."

(LETTER MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 3).

MR. CHERNIACK: My lord, a perusal of the Custodian's file does not reveal any inventory other thanthat letter. If my learned friend has any better or more satisfactory inventory, I am not aware of it. Your Lordship will note on the analysis that there are certain items shown as no record at any time. With reference to the beds which claim we have withdrawn, and it refers to the tools.

MR. HUNTER: I have made a new one for your Lordship on the bottom of the analysis.

THE COMMISSIONER: Yes, I noticed it.

MR. CHERNIACK: Then,my lord, the amended analysis shows only the itemized list of tools as no record at any time. May I point out, your Lordship, that there is a reference in the declaration of the first column of the analysis to the bed including the drum stove, battery, tools, etc. My learned friend points out to me, my lord, that his reaction is they are boat tools.

THE COMMISSIONER: That would be a natural reaction in view of the specific reference to the boat including drum stove, tools , etc.

MR. CHERNIACK: We could ask the witness.

THE COMMISSIONER: How would someone else reading that report interpret it, is what we want. He may have meant something different, but that is what he said. You are free to ascertain what his answer is.

MR. CHERNIACK: I see your point, my lord.

10 THE COMMISSIONER: I doubt if it is going to be helpful.

MR. CHERNIACK: Yes, I see your point. There is a reference on my learned friend's file that the tools mentioned as going off the boat were not found. That would be on the back of a letter from the Japanese Fishing Vessels Disposal Committee of June 5th, 1942. The back of the letter has in pencil printing "missing engine parts, carburator, magneto," and with a note, "found in Japanese shack and delivered to owner". Then the tools and 20 propeller. It will be our submission, my lord, that no property inventory was taken by the Custodian and that the goods declared for which the claim is being made are now shown at their correct value.

MR. HUNTER: It is submitted, my lord, that the claims made for property which was not sold by the Custodian are exorbitant. It is submitted further that the tools were undeclared and were not found. Perhaps I should clarify the position of the Custodian on this. In these out of the way places, unless

30 there was a very large amount of goods shown on the

J.P. form, no inventory was made, because obviously the Custodian could not send a person up to inventory these remote spots, where the property involved was very slight. In this it shows boat value, $1000.00, including tools, etc., and shows a $100.00 cohoe net which has a fair chance of being protected by the cannery. Then bedding, fishing clothes, shoes, etc.; the latter are the only ones that are likely to go astray and it was the Custodian's policy if it didn't look particularly valuable not to send someone up there but to ask a local man to do it. The letter that has been put in indicates the answer that they were all mixed up and the chap up there couldn't make head nor tail of it.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNTER:

Q Is this your signature, Mr. Yamamoto?

A Yes.

MR. HUNTER: The J.P. form, my lord, says, "Beached at Provincial Canneries Rivers Inlet, B.C., one gasboat 5 horsepower, Vivian engine, 27'6" by 8' including drum stove, battery, tools, etc., value $1000.00."

I tender that as an exhibit, my lord.

(J.P. FORM MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 4).

MR. CHERNIACK: I wonder at this stage could my learned friend read the balance of the J.P. section.

MR. HUNTER: I thought I had already read it. If my learned friend wishes it in again, I will do so. "Beached at Provincial Canneries Rivers Inlet, B.C., one gasboat 5 horsepower, Vivian engine, 27'6" by 8' including drum stove, battery, tools, etc., value $1000.00. In cannery house Rivers Inlet, B.C., 200 fathoms 7" cohoe net $100.00. Bedding, kitchen utensils, fishing clothes, shoes, etc." This is a copy of a letter, my lord; the original is on file in the Custodian's office. It is a letter from J.H. Todd & Sons Limited, dated July 8th, 1942, and it is to the Custodian.

THE COMMISSIONER: July 8th, 1942?

MR. HUNTER: Yes, my lord. It says: "In reply to yours of 10 June 25th re, Japanese household effects now stored at Beaver Cannery.

"These effects will be quite alright here, and they are of so little value would not be worth to incur the expense of shipping to Vancouver. Of course, we feel we should not be held responsible if anything should happen to them.

"Everything is stored in one house here at Beaver Cannery. It is impossible to inventory them under each person's name as several people lived in the one house over a period of years and we don't 20 know which belongs to who as there are no tags on anything.

"We will do the best we can in this matter and will be glad at any time if we can be of service."

(LETTER MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 5).

MR. HUNTER: I don't know that that is particularly valuable but it helps to give the general picture up in this place.

THE COMMISSIONER: Have you something on the net?

30 MR. HUNTER: I don't know, my lord. I don't know where it got to. I had it last night. Oh, here it is, an extract of report, dated July 22nd, 1942, from the Commanding Officer H.M.C.S. "Ripple" to the Commanding Officer H.M.C.S. "Gwendry".

"Subject: Inventory of Japanese fishing gear and household articles stored at various places in Rivers Inlet. Stored in Beaver Cannery, a half cohoe net, marked 'F. Yamamoto', 3 pieces, 50 mesh, 6½ inch, 200 fathoms, age unknown, estimated value $15.00. Signed, J.B. Gillespie", and further down he has, "Gillespie, a member of the Fishermen's Reserve, was an experienced fisherman. Copy of report on G/95, 'outports'."

I don't know just what that means, my lord; possibly you do.

THE COMMISSIONER: You haven't any further information on the net, as to whether it was stolen or what happened to it?

MR. HUNTER: I don't know whether it was stolen or just deteriorated. There is some evidence in the file that in this Beavery Cannery there was a change of watchman and apparently there was a gap in between, and it does appear that things disappeared during that time.

THE COMMISSIONER: Anything further?

MR. CHERNIACK: I would just like to make it clear for the record that last information was for information only.

THE COMMISSIONER: Oh yes.

Attention Mr. M. L. Brown

Dear Sirs:-

Re: Mr. & Mrs. Fusikichi YAMAMOTO
Reg. Nos. 04787 & 05107

Further to ours of May 26th dealing with the above Japanese, we have now had a call from Mr. Johnston, the manager of the Beaver Cannery. Mr. Johnston tells us that when the Japanese were evacuated from the nearby Provincial Cannery, he moved such things as they left to safety at the Beaver Cannery, the former installation being unoccupied. Two naval men were on guard at the Beaver Cannery and later a winter watchman, though due to sickness this watchman was later replaced with another.

Mr. Johnston does not remember any baby clothes, but he does remember moving a good comforter and blanket which he strung up on a line at the Beaver Cannery in order to prevent their getting damp. He noticed that these were gone when he returned to the Cannery in the spring of this year. As to the other things packed in the Kori, he just put in what he could find.

This office is satisfied that Mr. Johnston himself is a very reliable man, but as in other cases in which remote places up the coast are concerned, Japanese property has been subject to much pilfering. This has been very largely the fault of the Japanese themselves since they frequently took no real precautions for the safety of their belongings but merely left them locked up in shacks with flimsy doors.

Dear Sir,

In reply to yours of June 25th re, Japanese household effects now stored at Beaver Cannery.

These effects will be quite alright here, and they are of so little value would not be worth to incur the expense of shipping to Vancouver. Of course, we feel we should not be held responsible if anything should happen to them.

Everything is stored in one house here at Beaver Cannery. It is impossible to inventory them under each person's name as several people lived in the one house over a period of years and we don't know which belongs to who as there are no tags on anything.

We will do the best we can in this matter and will be glad at any time if we can be of service.

Yours very truly,

J.H.Todd & Sons Ltd.
