PART 1, REVISED STATUTES OF CANADA 1927, CHAPTER 99.

JAPANESE PROPERTY CLAIMS COMMISSION.

B E F O R E

(THE HONOURABLE MR. JUSTICE H.I. BIRD, COMMISSIONER).

Lytton, B.C.,

January 14th, 1948.

IN THE MATTER OF THE CLAIM OF

SHINTARO YAMASHITA.

PROCEEDINGS AT HEARING.

APPEARANCES:

J.W.G. HUNTER, Esq.,	appearing for the Dominion Government.
R.J. McMASTER, Esq.,	appearing for the Claimant.

A. WATSON, Esq.,	Secretary.
G.N.R. UPTON, Esq.,	Official Interpreter.
T.P. HORROBIN, Esq.,	Official Reporter.

MR. McMASTER: We will require an Interpreter, my lord. May I have the claim form, please, Mr. Watson?

SHINTARO YAMASHITA, the claimant herein, being first duly sworn, testified through the Interpreter as follows:

DIRECT EXAMINATION BY MR. McMASTER:

Q Mr. Yamashita, is this your signature on the claim form and did you swear that declaration?

A Yes.

Q What was your occupation in Vancouver before you were evacuated? A: Yamashita Taxi, Radio & Electrical apparatus.

Q Now, I produce to you a statement which you instructed Mr. Leckie to draw with regard to certain chattels relating to your business? Did you instruct him to draw that statement, and is that your signature on it?

A Yes.

Q And are the contents of that statement true, to the best of your knowledge and recollection?

A Yes.

MR. McMASTER: I file that as Exhibit 1, my lord.

(STATEMENT MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 1)

Q Now, do you recall what you paid for the automobiles referred to in that statement, Mr. Yamashita?

A He bought seven cars. He says he can't remember the amounts.

Q Were the cars new when he purchased them?

A Yes.

MR. McMASTER: I understand the Custodian has the original sales agreements, my lord. Perhaps he would be good enough to supply us with the information of the purchase price from those. I am advised the standard list price was $1435.00 for each car, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: Q: When did he buy them?

A 1941.

MR. McMASTER: The 10th of April, 1941, I am also advised by my learned friend is the date of purchase.

THE COMMISSIONER: $1435.00, bought new in 1941.

MR. McMASTER: Yes, bought new in 1941 on the 10th of April. Actually he bought them on a time purchase basis, and with the carrying charges and interest, the price was $1685.00.

Q Now, on or about the 10th of March, 1942, did you surrender these cars to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police?

A He had an order from the Mounted Police to that effect, so he handed them over.

Q And are these the receipts which he received from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in respect of the cars for which he is claiming?

A Yes. He said when he took those cars there, he received those receipts.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, I would ask to file these as an exhibit, if I might.

THE COMMISSIONER: Is there any purpose in filing them?

MR. McMASTER: I might give the information from these receipts. There are five receipts, each for 1941 Chevrolet sedan taxis.

THE COMMISSIONER: Surrendered on what date?

MR. McMASTER: Surrendered on March 10th, 1942, my lord. Each is stated to have five tires. The mileage on the cars respectively, I think, is relevant, my lord, as shown on this receipt, which, in the first instance, is 13,463 miles; the second car, 22,493 miles; the third car, 23,551 miles; the fourth car, 23,641 miles; the fifth car, 23,642 miles. Each of the cars is shown as being equipped with a heater and defroster, and the tires on each of the cars are described as white side-wall tires. In each case the condition of the cars is stated to be "appears in good condition". The receipt is signed by G.T. Croups.

THE COMMISSIONER: There is no question but that it is a Mounted Police receipt.

MR. HUNTER: No. As a matter of fact, these were purchased by the Mounted Police, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: I see.

MR. McMASTER: I would like my learned friend to provide my lord with the date of sale. He has already disclosed they were sold to the R.C.M.P. On the claims analysis I believe the date of sale is shown as August, 1942.

MR. HUNTER: Yes, that is correct, my lord. August 31st, 1942.

MR. McMASTER: And they were sold to the Mounted Police, four I think at $875.00, and one at $865.00.

THE COMMISSIONER: $875.00?

MR. McMASTER: $875.00 each for four, and one at $865.00.

Q How long had you been operating a taxi business?

A Since 1919.

Q Since 1919? A: Yes.

Q And at the time of your evacuation how many drivers did you have?

A Five drivers. More before.

Q How long had those drivers been with you?

THE COMMISSIONER: We are only concerned, are we not, with the chattels?

MR. McMASTER: Yes, but my point in asking the question, my lord, is to draw out the fact the cars had received proper attention in the short period he had them.

THE COMMISSIONER: You have that in an admission from the Mounted Police that they were in apparent good condition.

MR. McMASTER: Q: I produce to you a newspaper clipping. Would you tell my lord what that is?

A At the time when the cars were sold, he considered that the prices were cheap, and therefore he took this clipping out of the paper to show the prices at which cars were selling at that time, and particularly certain bargain prices.

Q What paper is that taken from?

A The "Province".

Q What date is the date that appears here?

A 1943.

MR. HUNTER: What date?

MR. McMASTER: One is March 9th, 1943, and the other is March 13th, 1943, and he has particularly drawn attention to an item on March 9th clipping, my lord, an ad by Dueck-Nicoll, 1941 Chevrolet sedan, $1095.00, and that is headed at the top "Bargain". I would like to file that, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: I am just wondering whether evidence of that nature is of much value in view of the fact that it surely will be possible to call one or more Chevrolet agents to state what the price of a used Chevrolet car was at the date of sale, August, 1942.

MR. McMASTER: Yes, my lord, I imagine we will endeavour to.

THE COMMISSIONER: I would not waste time in filing material of that kind because it is not of great value. It is just an indication and where we can get concrete evidence, I think it is very much better not to bother with evidence of that nature.

MR. HUNTER: In addition, my lord, it only shows what they hoped to get, not what they got.

THE COMMISSIONER: That is so.

(NEWSPAPER CLIPPINGS MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 2).

MR. McMASTER: Q: Now would you explain to my lord how these radios that are listed in your claim got into your possession?

A They were trade-ins from business.

MR. HUNTER: The radios?

MR. McMASTER: Yes, the radios.

Q Can you remember the specific radios themselves?

A Yes. All these were radios which he had sold.

Q And did you have a receipt for those radios from the Royal Canadian Mounted Police?

A Yes.

Q And at the time that you made your claim and set a value on those radios, did you refer to the description of the radio as contained in that receipt? A: Yes.

Q Now generally speaking these were radios, I take it, that you had taken in on trade where persons were buying new radios. With regard to these specific radios concerning which you make a claim, what was their condition at the time that you evacuated? A: These radios were sent in by different people because they wanted a combination gramophone and radio.

Q Does he have any recollection as to the approximate age of these radios with respect to which he is claiming? A: About one to two years.

THE COMMISSIONER: You are dealing generally with all the radios, of which there are ten.

MR. McMASTER: That is right, my lord.

Q On the receipt which you obtained from the R.C.M.P., did the model numbers of the radios appear in all or most of the instances?

A Yes.

Q And would the model number of the radio disclose its age? A: He says not as an established rule, but you could pretty nearly gauge it.

Q Now, witness, turning to the matter of household chattels which you claim on your form and before I ask the witness any questions, my lord,--

THE COMMISSIONER: First, will you finish with the radios?

MR. McMASTER: Is there something else, my lord?

THE COMMISSIONER: There has been nothing to show what they were sold at.

MR. McMASTER: Oh? I am sorry, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: And what he thinks they should have been sold at.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, I think he sets forth in his claim the total amount in that statement, and he has verified it is true to the best of his knowledge and recollection. Do you wish something further? I think he groups the ten radios on this statement he has made and shows as set forth on the claim a total value of $460.00.

THE COMMISSIONER: What did they sell for?

MR. HUNTER: They sold for $271.50, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: All right, that is good enough then.

MR. McMASTER: Thank you, my lord. Before proceeding with the matter of personal chattels, my lord, I wish to ask for an amendment on the claim form. You will notice on the back page in the chattel claim item No. 8 there are "five families house goods". I am instructed by the claimant what he meant by that, and what he means is "household goods for a family of five". I am sorry, that might have caused my friend some inconvenience in trying to find the other families.

THE COMMISSIONER: All right.

MR. McMASTER: Q: Now with respect to your household chattels, did you instruct Mr. Leckie to prepare this form, and is this your signature on the form? A: Yes.

Q And is the information contained on that form true, to the best of your knowledge and recollection? A: Yes.

MR. McMASTER: I file that as an exhibit, my lord.

(STATEMENT MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 3).

Q Witness, on this statement which you have made with regard to your household chattels, you state that you have arrived at their worth by estimating for each member of your family at at least $250.00 worth of goods and chattels, is that correct?

A Yes.

Q And there are five members of your family?

A Six now, but then there were five. At that time there were five.

Q Would you agree or otherwise that is a very rough way of estimating the value of your chattels?

THE COMMISSIONER: I am sure whether he agrees or not, it is.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, I am sure he will readily agree that it is. Never mind the question.

Q Now I would like to produce to you, witness, a copy of the reports on the auctions relating to the sale of personal chattels of yours by the Custodian? Have you had an opportunity to see those documents before, and have they previously been translated to you into the Japanese language? A: He says he was shown these by Mr. McMaster.

Q And they were translated by Mr. Iwasa to him into the Japanese language?

A Yes.

Q Do you consider that the prices shown in those lists as being obtained for the list of articles that are shown there were a fair market price?

A He thinks that the prices are cheap, or low.

Q Now there is a large quantity of household goods listed in these lists?

A Yes.

Q Now, witness, included in your household goods, I think in the declaration that you made to the Custodian was a three piece bedroom suite. Would you tell my lord when you purchased that bedroom suite? A: You want a description, did you say?

Q No, I asked him when he purchased it.

A In the fall of 1941.

Q Yes, and how much did he pay for it when he purchased it? A: His wife bought it for $175.00.

Q Now did you have any six piece bedroom suite?

A No, not six.

Q Did you have any other three piece bedroom suite? A: Yes.

Q You did have another one. How many more?

A Not a set.

Q Not a set? A: Not a set.

Q So you only had one three piece set?

A Only one three piece set.

Q Now there appears in this list of chattels a sale of a six piece bedroom suite, sold for $99.00. Assuming that including in the six pieces that were sold was your three piece set, would you consider that a fair market price in August of 1944 for your bedroom set?

A He says that he thinks that they should have been able to get a little more.

Q Now in your J.P. form you refer to 15 picture frames. Did you have a number of pictures in your house? A: Yes, he did. They were in the nature of that boat (indicating) and locations and things of that nature.

Q Yes, and how expensive were those pictures when he purchased them? A: The big ones were $30.00 and the little ones were $15.00 for the frame only.

Q For the frame only? A: For the frame only, yes.

Q And over what period of time had he acquired these pictures? A: Five, six to ten years. During that time he had acquired them.

Q Yes, now what kind of china did you have in the house, that is dinner plates and china that you used at the table?

A His chinaware was Japanese.

Q Yes, and of what quality was the chinaware?

A I know what this stuff is but I can't describe it. It is from a place called Satsuma.

Q Is it a cheap type of chinaware, or an expensive type? A: He says in Japan it is dear, but it would be much higher here.

Q I notice on the list of things that were sold six platters which sold for $9.70. Have you any idea what those platters would be?

A He said they cost over $10.00 each. The largest one was 24 inches and they cost over $10.00 each.

Q Now in your declaration to the Custodian at the time you left you mentioned one expensive Buddhist cabinet. Would he tell my lord as briefly as he can what a Buddhist cabinet would be?

THE COMMISSIONER: What do you want him to do, describe it or give the value?

MR. McMASTER: No, just to describe it briefly, I hope, my lord.

A Four feet high, two feet wide. It has a large figure of Buddha inside the cabinet and as a rule those things are made very beautiful indeed. It has folding doors to it.

Q In a Japanese community would there be a market for that kind of thing?

A To a Buddhist that would be very easily sold.

THE COMMISSIONER: That is going to be our difficulty here, Mr. McMaster. The market for that was moved with the evacuated Japanese.

MR. McMASTER: That is correct, my lord, but my submission will be, aside from the submission made by Mr. Brewin the other day -- my submission will be if it were an article of considerable value then it might well have been worth chasing the market.

THE COMMISSIONER: Well of course had they chased the market to the place where the evacuated Japanese were, nevertheless there would be the difficulty of selling to any of them because of the fact they were moving around. I appreciate your problem.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, I would like to go at it another way.

Q Is this witness aware whether or not such an object might be saleable to persons who collected Japanese objects or religious objects, whether Japanese or Occidental?

A He says he wouldn't be able to say.

Q I see. Also included in his declaration to the Custodian were thirty boxes of Japanese dolls.

A Yes.

Q Now, did those dolls have any significance in Japanese custom? A: They were dolls which were used for a festival in March and in May.

Q And would those dolls have a sale value to persons who were interested in Japanese custom and traditions and practices?

THE COMMISSIONER: I have no doubt your friend would concede that. Given the market, they would have a sale value, but we are up against the same difficulty there again, not only have the persons been removed, but the market has been removed, and it is going to be extremely difficult to determine what value those articles should be given in the terms of reference.

MR. McMASTER: I appreciate that.

THE COMMISSIONER: I do not know that you need lead further evidence on it. I know what your problem is and you are putting it at my doorstep now.

MR. McMASTER: Q: Now, witness, when you were evacuated, were you able to take with you all of your clothing?

A He says that certain clothing for parties and those sort of things he left behind.

Q What type of clothing was he able to take with him, or did he take with him?

A Just every day wear.

Q Yes, and was the quantity of clothing that he left behind large or small?

A He says there was one trunk left, and that there was a cupboard in which all the drawers were left full of clothes.

MR. HUNTER: Q: I am sorry, I didn't hear that.

A There was a cupboard. No, it isn't really a cupboard, it is a dresser, in which the drawers were all left full of clothes.

MR. McMASTER: Q: At the time you made your declaration to the representative of the Custodian before being evacuated did you say anything about this clothing? A: He said he told the Custodian that there was a locked trunk and drawers of this cupboard full of clothing.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, I am sorry, before I proceed I did want to put in these auction reports as an exhibit.

(REPORTS MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 4).

Q Now, witness, in addition to the goods and chattels which you showed on your declaration to the Custodian in Exhibit 4, there are a large number of other articles which you have identified as being your property. Can you explain to my lord why those articles don't appear in the declaration which you made to the Custodian? A: They appear here, do they?

Q No, they don't appear in this declaration. Can he explain the circumstances under which he signed this declaration and why those articles do not appear?

A The ones that he put in there are the large and the important items. The day he was evacuated he locked up the room and took the key to the Custodian and he told the Custodian that there were certain small items which he couldn't make any record of.

MR. IWASA: It is the other way around, the Custodian told him.

THE INTERPRETER: But that is what he said. Oh, he says the Custodian's representative said that if he couldn't make a list of these small articles, he couldn't go, is that right? Then he returned to his house and made a list from his mind of certain items. He said he put down the chief items and the others he lumped together. He didn't write down the small items.

Q Then what did he do? A: There was an English girl there -- no, an old lady who spoke Japanese there. It came close to the time for the office to close and they made a list and told him to sign it and he signed it.

Q And is this a list that he signed or is that the form that he signed?

A Yes.

THE COMMISSIONER: You wish to put in the J.P. form?

MR. McMASTER: I think I should, my lord. The only place it arises, my lord, is with regard to the clothing, and the clothing is missing from there and I had to have some explanation with regard to it.

(J.P. FORM MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 5).

Q You left these locked in a room and you said you gave the key to a representative of the Custodian. Do you remember who that representative was?

A He said he left it with the man to whom he spoke in the Custodian's office.

Q And did the man give you anything at the time?

A No. Well he said the representative, to whom he showed the key, came and he showed him where it was.

THE COMMISSIONER: Before you leave the J.P. form, I notice in the statement of personal property there are a number of items that are stricken through with a pen and ink. What is the significance of that?

MR. HUNTER: There is a legend down below, my lord.

MR. McMASTER: I think those were added by the Custodian.

THE COMMISSIONER: Those were the articles that were sold by auction.

MR. HUNTER: Not at that particular sale. There were other sales, at least one other.

MR. McMASTER: I think my friend has a claims analysis that wasn't shown to the claimant.

THE COMMISSIONER: It shows sold at auction 10th/8th/44, Vancouver, 504.

MR. HUNTER: Yes, that is right. There were others sold later.

MR. McMASTER: Now, my lord, those are all the questions I have from this witness. I would like to say this. I found it extremely difficult to present this case in view of the large quantity of goods, and I don't want to take any more of the Commission's time than absolutely necessary, but I would direct your attention to the fact, my lord, that the claimant is claiming only with respect to those goods that appear on the J.P. form, or which the Custodian actually sold, with the exception of this matter of clothing and he includes that in his claim.

THE COMMISSIONER: In other words there are no lost articles.

MR. McMASTER: Well, we are not claiming with respect to any, my lord. I would say there were certain articles declared on the J.P. form which on his claims analysis the Custodian shows no disposition for, and we are claiming with respect to those, my lord.

CROSS-EXAMINATION BY MR. HUNTER:

Q Mr. Yamashita, you had a family of five at the time of the evacuation. What were their ages?

A One was seventeen, fourteen, eleven, and he and his wife.

Q Yes, that is six, isn't it?

A No, one boy and two daughters.

MR. HUNTER: My lord, with your permission I am proposing to file the claims analysis, the first page of which is devoted to those articles which were declared, and the next two and one-half pages are all items which were un-declared and were sold at public auction. Of those items which were declared, 14 items were not found and we have no record of same.

THE COMMISSIONER: Had there been any pilfering in this case?

MR. HUNTER: I don't know, my lord. In addition there were a few discrepancies as to numbers. One my friend has mentioned, a three piece bedroom suite, we show a six piece. There were two brass flower pots;we show one. Instead of 15 picture frames which my friend mentioned, we show six. Instead of eight kitchen chairs, five. Instead of three bedsprings, we show one; but aside from those discrepancies in numbers there were fourteen items which we cannot account for and for which we have no record. I had happened to mark opposite them a tick which is really in the abandoned column, and the tick I put there was purely for my own purposes. They were not abandoned, but we don't appear to have another copy of it here.

MR. McMASTER: Do I take it from my friend's statement that he doesn't know about these goods, or is he suggesting they didn't come into the possession of the Custodian? The list doesn't show it to be the situation.

MR. HUNTER: I am merely saying, my lord, we have no knowledge of same. Whether they came into our possession or not, I don't know. They may have or may not have , from the information we have available. I might add in this case, my lord, as was quite often done, no inventory was made here. The chattels were taken directly from the building to the auction sale, and the only inventory which was made in such cases was the inventory of the sale, that is the actual list of the chattels made at the sale. It was only where we had to ship from storage to some other spot that an inventory was made before shipping. That is the general rule but it is not 100%.

(CLAIMS ANALYSIS MARKED EXHIBIT NO. 6)

MR. HUNTER: That is all, my lord.

MR. McMASTER: My lord, there is one further question if I might be permitted to ask it. Witness, in relation to the average economic position of the Japanese in the City of Vancouver before evacuation, would you describe your economic position as being better than the average, or average, or lower than the average?

THE COMMISSIONER: It was above the average, don't you think?

MR. McMASTER: I would think so, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: It is difficult for the man to say himself.

MR. McMASTER: Would you concede that, Mr. Hunter?

MR. HUNTER: I should think he would be, but I perhaps should add a rider to that, my lord, judging from the amounts involved in this claim, this man was in a rather poor condition.

MR. McMASTER: I would ask the Custodian in that case to be good enough to provide me with the claims analysis to be filed. It apparently doesn't compare with the one I have, my lord. I can appreciate why I wasn't provided with it due to the confusion that arose over the five families. I can get that at a later date, my lord.

THE COMMISSIONER: They are exhibits.

PROPOSED SUBDIVISION

ONE-ACRE TRACTS

Desirable Residential Setting

Known to Old Timers

AS THE "DIPLOCK PLACE"

Owner proposes subdividing 5 acres situated on what is known as the Central Plateau in North Vancouver, being the three street frontages of 15th St. East, St. George's Ave. and 17th St. The house address of this property is: 150 15th Street East. One block east of Lonsdale Avenue carline. High ground, including an old home of 9 rooms which might suit as a nursing home. Frontage of 335 ft. on 15th St. E. at corner of St. George's Avenue is zoned for multiple dwelling, school, hospital, church, etc.; balance of acreage strictly residential. Subdivision price will figure approximately $1000 per acre. Please note the natural woodlands and the small stream running through the property which could be developed.

Frontage on St. George's Avenue—680 feet—and 335 ft. on 17th St. Land taxes average about $70 per acre per year. Total price $5000.

Terms may be arranged. Usual courtesy to licensed brokers. H. V. Sharples, real estate sales manager. The Yorkshire, 525 Seymour, MArine 4211.

Description of Storage of Goods: all goods were stored in two rooms at 219 Gore Ave, Vancouver, locked and keys handed to Custodian's representative

General Statement as to Chattels not Described above:

Additional Comments, if any: I have estimated the value of all my household chattels declared on my E.P. form (or, if not so declared, received and sold by the Custodian) and of clothing left on the premises (Gore Ave.) at $250.00 worth for each member of my family. I have examined the auction reports and they represent sales at prices much below what I consider to be a fair market value for same.
