ENGLISH CITIES AND VILLAGES RUSH PLANS

Feasts And Fun Planned For Coronation

By ANDREW SNADDON
from The Vancouver Province
London Bureau

LONDON — Almost every village and city in England seems to be well advanced with plans for a memorable coronation year celebration.

While the spotlight will shine on London and the major state occasions, the talker centres are planning pageants, feasts (the minister of food permitting), operas, carnivals, fireworks, bonfires, sports and fairs.

Even the brewers are planning a special treble-strength product which they claim can be kept for 50 years if anyone wishes to keep it for 50 years. Many towns plan to roast oxen over open fires and, in at least one case, if the ration authorities won't allow an oxen for a barbecue then a deer will be substituted.

At Workingham, Berkshire, an 80-year-old resident will be available to superintend the barbecue, as experts in this line are few in modern times. A fire of oak logs will be started in the square at 10 p.m. Coronation eve and the cooking operation will go on all through the night, with carving starting at lunch-time.

Other experts claim that to obtain the best flavor in the meat, pine needles and bay leaves are sprinkled on at intervals.

Special illuminations which are featured by many coastal resorts in the late summer and early fall will be turned on in Coronation week.

The demand for fireworks is outrunning the possible supply and one major manufacturer closed his order books last November.

Pageants and processions reflecting the history of the country are being planned by a number of towns and villages.

At Luton, Bedfordshire, for instance, 1000 will act in Elizabethan costume in a pageant based on "Merrie England" with a large reproduction of Windsor Castle in the background.

Illuminated and decorated vessels will compete in water shows at Brighton as well as at some inland river towns.

During the celebrations, Brighton will also hold a fancy dress parade by torchlight. Not all the celebrations are planned as events taking place during the Coronation period and then passing into history. Some consideration is being given to lasting memorials.

Bedford will add a flower garden to the public park and a children's wading pool to its riverside facilities.

The Oxfordshire education committee has decided to provide books about British institutions, history and the Commonwealth countries as well as using funds to improve school amenities.

At Gainsborough, funds will be raised to save a decaying Elizabethan mansion by two exhibitions. One will be a doll show in which dolls belonging to members of the royal family will be included, and the other exhibit will be of Coronation exhibits still in the possession of local residents, but dating back to other coronations.

Teas and public television showing on large screens are planned for elderly residents of many English towns, while for children there will be prizes for sports days.

One happy promise for the children is the minister of food's word that a special allowance will be made for candies to be given out by bona fide organizers of children's Coronation parties.

London will be the centre of attraction when the young Queen is crowned, but throughout the country will actually participate in less noticed but every bit as important celebrations.

And, as the day ends, searchlights, fireworks, other illuminations will light the skies of her island.

THE KOH-I-NUR, THE MOST FAMOUS DIAMOND IN THE WORLD, WAS FOUND AT GOLCONDA, SOUTHERN INDIA. ITS KNOWN HISTORY BEGINS IN THE 14TH CENTURY WHEN ONE OF THE GREAT MOGULS OBTAINED IT BY GUILF FROM THE KING OF GOLCONDA. IT IS SET IN THE STATE CROWN MADE FOR THE QUEEN CONSORT.

THE KOH-I-NUR REMAINED IN THE POSSESSION OF THE GREAT MOGULS UNTIL 1739, WHEN THE KING OF PERSIA INVADDED THE PUNJAB, AND THE REIGNING MOGUL, MAHOMED SHAH, LOST HIS KINGDOM. TO PREVENT PARTING WITH THE PRICELESS JEWEL, THE SHAH CONCEALED IT IN THE FOLDS OF HIS TURBAN. . . . BUT ONE OF MAHOMED SHAH'S WIVES DIVULGED THE SECRET.

IT WAS THOUGHT TO BE PART OF AN EVEN LARGER STONE. DILIGENT SEARCH WAS MADE FOR THE MISSING PORTION, BUT 14 YEARS LATER, A LARGE DIAMOND, BELIEVED TO BE A PART OF THE OTHER HALF, WAS UNFORTUNATELY CRUSHED IN THE CRUSHER. BOUGHT BY THE UNION GOVERNMENT OF SOUTH AFRICA AND INSURED FOR £1,500,000, IT WAS PRESENTED TO EDWARD VII AS AN EMBLEM OF THE ENTRY OF SOUTH AFRICA INTO THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

IT WAS DECIDED BY EXPERTS, THAT, FOLLOWING THE NATURAL CLEAVAGES, THE DIAMOND SHOULD BE CUT INTO FOUR PARTS. THE WORK WAS ENTRUSTED TO CELEBRATED DIAMOND CUTTERS FROM AMSTERDAM. SO GREAT WAS THE SKILL REQUIRED FOR THIS OPERATION, THAT ONE TREMOR OF THE Mallet OR CHISEL WOULD HAVE MARRIED THE GREATEST STONE OF ALL AGES! THE FOUR PORTIONS ARE KNOWN AS THE STARS OF AFRICA.

THE LARGEST IS SET IN THE SOVEREIGN'S SCEPTRE AND THE NEXT IN THE STATE CROWN. THE TWO REMAINING STONES ARE SET IN THE CROWN MADE FOR THE QUEEN CONSORT. IT IS DIFFICULT TO ESTIMATE THE VALUE OF THE STARS OF AFRICA FOR NONE BUT ROYALTY COULD WEAR THEM.

AT THE TIME OF THE FIRST DAYLIGHT RAIDS OF THE FIRST WORLD WAR FOUR BOMBS DROPPED NEAR THE TOWER, AND IT WAS DECIDED TO MOVE THE CROWN JEWELS TO A SAFER PLACE. A ROYAL CAR REMOVED THE REGALIA TO THE SAFETY OF WINDSOR CASTLE.

THE MOVEMENT OF THE JEWELS, DURING THE LAST WAR HAS NOT BEEN OFFICIALLY DISCLOSED; BUT IT IS BELIEVED, THAT, IN COMMON WITH OTHER NATIONAL TREASURES, THE JEWELS WERE FIRST TAKEN TO SAFE STORAGE IN VARIOUS PARTS OF THE BRITISH ISLES. WHEN THE DANGER OF INVASION WAS IMMINENT, THE CROWN JEWELS ARE BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN BY DESTROYER TO CANADA, TO THE FINEST STRONG ROOM IN THE WORLD.
