FISHERMEN TO OPPOSE PROPOSALS

FISHERMEN of British Columbia have united to oppose the new fisheries regulations by the Hon. S. L. Howe, commissioner.

Their central committee, consisting of representatives of all fishermen's organizations in the province, sent the following wire Monday night to Premier S. F. Tolmie:

"Representing 12,000 fishermen, we demand that no action be taken to enforce the new fisheries regulations without further investigation."

Mr. Kenneth Richardson, secretary of the committee, states that, upon examination of the regulations, it was found that they will force independent fishermen to abandon their boats and will operate to the detriment of fishermen's co-operative organizations planning to build canneries of their own.

It is provided, he declared, that no more licenses for canneries will be issued during the next five years. The United Fishermen's Co-operative Association and the B. C. Fishermen's Co-operative Association had planned to build canneries this year.

The fishermen also claim the new regulations will phase them out of the mercy of the canner.

Under the fisheries commissioner's plan, canners will be allowed to purchase fish from only a stipulated number of vessels. The canners, they declare, already own sufficient gear and vessels to meet the quota, and the independent operators will be left without a market for their catch.

COMMITTEE TO ACT
The central committee has power to act for all locals of the B. C. Fishermen's Protective association, the West Coast Fishermen's association, the Northern B. C. Salmon Fishermen's association, the United Fishermen's Co-operative association, the B. C. Fishermen's Co-operative union, and all Japanese fishermen's organizations.

TUNNEL BORING STARTS

FIRST HOLE ON BEATTY ST.

Drilling of the first of the 10 test holes to determine the character of the strata for the $1,500,000 tunnel under the city's business section was commenced this morning at the southwest corner of Beatty and Dunsmuir streets by the Robinson Contracting Co. Ltd.

The company was awarded the contract on Monday afternoon by the city council for the staking of the 10 test holes at $2775.00.

The initial test hole is being put down right at the edge of the sidewalk at the corner of Dunsmuir and Beatty.

It will be the first one westward from the tunnel portal, for which provision was made by the C.F.R. some years ago by reserving several lots which take in the bluff between the Georgia street and the west end of the city's business section. The tunnel portal will be about midway between the drill hole and the end of the viaduct.

The chief claimant is that it is not possible to distinguish the tunnel from the gully when trouble starts and that persons who have anything to do with the gathering are liable to injury. It is understood that if further gatherings of unemployed persons will be permitted on grounds and the permits for parades will be issued.

PLEAS GUILTY
In court today David Loyal pleaded guilty to assaulting an officer on the previous week's incident, and the fact that he had his head in the center of Monday's adventure, resulted in Magistrate Finlay sentencing him to go on payment of a fine of $5.

Alan Campbell, alias William Brown; James Litterer, William Brown and George Davidson, charged with taking part in an unlawful assembly, were remanded on bail of $1000 each to Jan. 31, their heads having been reduced from $2000. Arthur Brown was remanded until January 27 as were Polly Karinsky and William Davidson, on charges on parole officers and the latter with obstruction.

Chief Magistrate stated that he would accept the same view because it would be an attempt to parade was necessary.

Ministry's parole was executed because it really started. When the officers found up in machine order the men they were warned by Deputy Chief Magistrate that the order was "no parole." William Davidson, unrepentant association leader, replied that his men were prepared to take the consequences of the law.

CHARGED BY POLICE
As soon as the police had taken the last step they were charged by four mounted police whose horses were started to a charge. The men were charged with obstruction of justice, and the latter with obstruction of justice.

GOVERNMENT DEALS EXAMINED

They cover almost every conceivable phase of government activity during the past year.

The opposition wants to know what the government has been doing before it begins to debate.

For instance, one critical study expected, whether the members of the executive council in the proposed bill of 1919 series of retained financial bills for which members were called last week.

They want to know how many bills were introduced, what price per acre was offered, in public and if not, whether the bills have been accepted and what the terms of the deal in public.

CIVIL SERVICE DISMISSALS

Among the many other subjects of liberal questions were: How many civil servants and other government employees were dismissed and how many new officials employed. How many of both classes were re-employment.

How much the various ministers spent on travelling expenses, on postage, on printing, on the purchase of automobiles, etc. What branches of public works the government is doing and from whom.

POLICE BAN ON UNEMPLOYED PARADES

One of Eight Arrested Fined, Seven Remanded

Chief Magistrate, in view of the possibility of further trouble due to those which occurred at the unemployed demonstration Monday afternoon, has issued a warning to peaceful citizens to stay from places where such assemblies are being held.

The chief claimant is that it is not possible to distinguish the tunnel from the gully when trouble starts and that persons who have anything to do with the gathering are liable to injury. It is understood that if further gatherings of unemployed persons will be permitted on grounds and the permits for parades will be issued.
