The lesson-sermon will also include the reading of citations from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, one passage being as follows: "Through all the disciples experienced, they became more spiritual and understood better what the Master had taught. CANADIAN MEMORIAL CHAPEL

Corner Fifteenth Avenue and Cedar Street

Minister: Rev. G. O. Fallis, B.D., C.M.G. Director of Music: J. Edward Welton.

Canadian Memorial Chapel is a memorial of all those who died with the Canadians in the World War. It has eighteen beautiful memorial windows, one of which, the rose window, depicts the different provinces of Canada and the Union. The whole chapel is in memory of those American citizens who joined up with the Canadian forces and gave their lives. Every symbol in it points to the conviction that war should be no more. It is in no sense a war memorial. Last year tourists from thirty nations of the world visited this sacred edifice. The church is served by one of the finest choirs in the city.

Tourists, business men and others visiting Vancouver are invited to worship in Canadian Memorial Chapel.
