NANKING ARMIES CRUSH REBELLION

Conclusive Victories Claimed in Government Reports

BHANGHAI, Oct. 12.—(Continued from page 4.)—Government officials forecast the end of China's latest civil war.

Nanking's military machine now is operating actively in North-western Honan Province seeking to crush the Government's one remaining formidable openly hostile faction, General Feng Yu Hsiang's Kuomintang.

Nanking's military headquarters said that during the last 48 hours Marshal Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist troops achieved a series of brilliant victories along the Hsiao Tungwan, Hsiao Tung and Wai of Chengchow were occupying the important city of Honan's generally commanding the Kuomintang's slip throughout extreme Northwest Honan.

The military also said that north of Chengow a victorious force had routed the weakening Kuomintang and Nationalist have captured 60,000 rebels, while the remainder have fled northward before our advancing troops.

Nanking said the victories mark the ending of a united front between the Kuomintang and Chinese Nationalist army of 250,000 men, who have killed 50,000 captives and disarmed 150,000 and driven the remaining 70,000 into the southeastern borders of Shanxi Province, where without leadership equipment.
