Drops 'Gentleman's tics; Raids Purses

tinued from Page 1) in why do you take it?", ked. ause I need it," he said.

so told her he would not her purse and said "I wen come back and take t tonight."

the bandit entered the rcial Drive store, Miss d just sold Mrs. Walter take that." he said, cov-oth women with his gun ching for $2 Mrs. Walter on the clerk.

s Three Dollars

taking $3 from the cash the holdup man order-women into the back old Mrs. Walter she could rn and searched Miss

and took $5, writing down her

"I'll send the money back tomorrow, but I need it right now" he said, and through the back door.

Alert Resident Bags Own Thief

To B. J. Moir, King Edward Apartments, goes the credit of catching his own thief. At 7 p.m. Moir saw someone stealing a suit of clothes from the back of a truck parked at Hastings and Carrall Street. The thief ran off, but Moir followed him south on Carrall Street and caught and held him until de-tectives arrived. The thief, reports said, still had the clothes in his possession. He was taken to the headquarters and charged The found no money, he to the headquarters and its. Walter for her purse, with theft under $25.

Take for Bandit

ven Robberies Net $74

ed robbery of seven bak-six of which were Cana-findow Bakery branches, tted Vancouver's "Bakery only about $76 since he his career December 4.

talkative young stickup who invariably holds up clerks has fled empty I when any resistance was was put to rout in his first t on a Window Bakery on Dec. 4 when Eleanor son, refused to open the egister and threatened to nty minutes later, how-8 Cambie Street, covered Shaber, 17 and obtained efore leaving he asked her name, address and tele-

Dec. 8 he held up Betty son, 18, in the store at Davie Street, ordered her

On Dec. 10 he was again routed when he attempted to hold up Bartlett's Bakery, 1130 Robson Street at 4:45 p.m. Miss M. Rob-ertson, clerk, screamed and he

On December 17 he returned to the Cambie Street store and held up Miss D. Williams, took five dollars from the till and talked with the girl for five min-

Esquimalt Yards To Be Extended

OTTAWA, - (BUP) - Defence headquarters announced Friday night the Navy/Department has expropriated the land adjoining the nav dockyards at Esquimalt for it ediate ex-pansion of the dockyards.

Navy authorities estimated about 50 property owners would son, 18, in the store at Javie Street, ordered her; be affected by the expansion. look at his face and took The expropriated properties are on the till. He returned to re Friday.

12y Young Fool, Says Detective Chief

kery Bandit Abnormal lys U.B.C. Psychologist

erintendent of detectives, bakery bandit more like a mental case the cool young desperado les to appear.

r. Joseph E. Morsh, U.B. professor of abnormal hology, considers him a istitutional psychopath" dish exhibitionism.

perintendent of Detectives on Grant calls him a crazy g fool who is showing off.

normal

ormal e certainty is abnormal,"
Dr. Joseph E. Morsh, proof psychology at the Uniof psychology at the Uniof E. Friday night.

Men are not normally social like this follow. I eve the most delinquency
ue to an abnormality."

the heads of third and

the basis of third and h hand reports of his ac-I would say he is what we h hand reports of his av-l-would say he is what we constitutional psychopath. is a sort of waste basket which we put-cases that lot come under definite ories."

a trained psychologist and Exhibitionism

Surface bravado of the bandit's actions and the close at-tention he pays to the girls he robs suggests exhibitionism, Dr. Morsh believes.

"And remember he gets a lot of attention from the girls and in the newspapers. He probably reads every published about him."

The bandit's exhibitionism is The bandit's exhibitionism is undoubtedly due to a sense of inferiority, Dr. Morsh believes. "It is like a regression to childhood. You know how a youngster shows off when he feels inferior."

The fact that he consistently holds up girls may be due to a sense of inferiority in the presence of women, Dr. Morsh indicated.

cated.

"And he is probably like the highwayman of old. It is not as much the money he gets out of it as the prestige and glory he feels he gets from his exploits."

eels he gets from his explored:
"He's just a crazy young fool who is showing off how how smart he is," said Superintendent Grant. "We've had that kind before. He'll fall by the wayside one of these days
and we'll get him."

She's Getting Used To It Now

BORED WITH IT ALL-Pretty 18-year-old Betty Aitchison is getting used to being held up by Vancouver's elusive "Bakery Bandit" who pointed a gun at her for the second time in two weeks Friday and emptied the till. Although Betty poses for her picture with her hands up, she's smiling because she didn't even bother to raise them when the conversational thug asked for the money. He told her he couldn't shoot

Report B.C. Committee Protests Renewal Of Jap Fishing Licences

OTTAWA — (Special to Are News-Herald) — A strong pro-test against renewal of any Jap-anese fishing licenses in British. Columbia was received here Fri-day in a telegram from a civilian committee studying the problem of Japanese in that province, ac-cording to sources close to the cording to sources government.

The telegram, it was reported, resulted from a United Press despatch earlier this week reporting that a certain number, of Japanese licenses might be renewed provided applicants renewed provided applicants were able to pass close scrutiny by Royal Canadian Mounted Po-

Admitting they were worried at suggestion certain licenses might be renewed just when the round-up of Japanese fishing round-up of Japanese fishing boats was nearing completion. members of the standing com-mittee on Orientals never-the-less would not comment, Friday night, on the above despatch.

No Statement

"We cannot issue any states ment on the subject until it

Man Knifed In Street Brawl

A street corner brawl sent one man to the General Hospital with a knife wound in his hand last night.

John Zone, 128 Alexander St., told police that when he became involved in a fight on the corner of Main and Hastings Streets his attacker drew a pocket knife and slashed his right hand.

Midnight Mass

It was announced yesterday at the Archbishop's Palace that the usual Christmas midnight masses will be held at the Cath-olic churches of Vancouver un-less some unforseen emergency necessitates a resumption of the authorities," said Mayor F. J. Hume, of New Westminster, who is chairman of the com-mittee.

The committee was in special session all day Friday with naval and military authorities and is meeting again today, The News-Herald was informed Fri-day night. Major problem in the conferences was the possibility of Ottawa taking steps which would not meet with approval of the committee here.

Earlier in the day a press release issued by Sergeant J.

R. Barnes, R.C.M.F., secretary
to the committee, declared that "adequate steps have been taken and are being taken in accordance with plans
previously made to safeguard the public interest in the present situation and in any possible contingency which may arise." Included among "steps

minor importance already taken," was immobilization of the Japanese fishing fleet, said the statement.

ELECTRICAL

In this electrical era what could be more appropriate for Christmas, 1941, than a modern, streamlined electrical appliance. She will appreciate the beauty for Christmas, 1941, than a modern, streamlined electrical appliance. She will appreciate the beauty and practical nature of any item in our collection.

TOASTERS From $2.33 Up

ELECTRIC CLOCKS

From $3.95

GLASS COFFEE MAKERS From $2.95

DEPENDABLE IRONS (With full guarantee

From $2.25

Combination SANDWICH TOASTER AND WAFFLE IRON From $8.95

