Another Stalingrad

RUSS GAINING 'YARD BY YARD'

(By EDDY GILMORE.)
Moscow, May 11.—Red Army troops, crawling forward yard by yard in some of the bloodiest fighting of the Russian-German war since the days of Stalingrad, battled furiously today within the German defense lines at Novorossiysk, but it was reported they were meeting stiffening Axis resistance.

The Red Air Force meanwhile kept up a major scale of attacks against the German supply lines all along the front, but apparently was not successful in halting the flow of supplies. The Germans pushed into the Kuban to feed their numerous counter-attacks.

Heavy armored cars, motorized artillery and heavy field pieces were reported to have been continuing attacks upon enemy positions.

A despatch from the Black Sea fleet said that its air force was continuing attacks upon enemy supply ships and land positions.

RUN RAPID CLAIMS.
(The German radio claimed 474 Soviet planes had been destroyed in the week ending May 30 German planes, and that the Russians had lost 168 tanks in the Kuban, and 100,000 men since April 13.)

The Soviet noon communique told the Red Army detachment stormed into the German trenches in their Novorossiysk defense lines, killing 30 of the enemy to hold the position.

In repulsing an enemy counter-attack in another sector of the front, 200 German tanks were killed, a large quantity of guns captured and enemy equipment destroyed.

A German attempt to answer the Red Air Force sweep against their rail lines and supply centers in the Kuban, was an attack on the Rostov-Bataisk air gateway to the Caucasus, was met by withering anti-aircraft fire which brought down 43 of the raiders.

The ground, in the narrowing strip of the German-held Kuban, large forces grappled in the valleys and on the mountain sides, with the Russians aiming at the systematic extermination of the German and Rumanian forces.

(The German-borne Paris radio said that sea-borne Russian troops made large-scale landings in the Novorossiysk area.)

Land action on other fronts was insignificant. The Germans suffered heavy losses in the Donets River valley, near Lisichansk and south of Balaikaya, and Russian artillery was busy in the Smolensk, Volkhov and Sevsk sectors.

Time Not Given WILL CALL UP MARRIED MEN

(By Canadian Press.)
OTTAWA, May 11.—The Ottawa Journal said today in a newspaper story that registered married men between the ages of 26 and 30 have been sent to mobilization boards, preliminary to their call-up for military service.

(The government moves to prepare for the time when married men would be needed for the armed forces was reported exclusively in The Vancouver Daily Province by its Ottawa staff a fortnight ago.)

The story continued: "This new class, like the others which have preceded it, would be called up by proclamation."

"When the call will be sent, says Arthur Macnamara, director of the National Selective Service, depends entirely upon the circumstances."

"We are preparing for it anyway."

"The registration cards of the eligible men have been gathered together and sent to the mobilization boards."

"When it becomes necessary to call up the married men in that older age group we will be in readiness to do it."

"It can not go further than that."

"Previously the assembling of registration cards of an age-class has been a forerunner of a new draft call."

"The district mobilization boards expected the new group of married men would be called 'before midsummer.'"

(Call-up regulations provide for single men and childless widowers from 19 to 40 and married men and widowers with children from 19 to 25 years.)

Callup in British Columbia of married men between 26 and 30 will get as soon as possible, according to the Ottawa staff.

through the improper hatch cover, saturating the deck tie was to lay paper on the hatch covers, then the cargo of rayon fiber was laid on top in three tiers, each three to 12 inches further inboard than the tier below.

The pile reached a height of three and a half feet above the hatch coaming. Tarps were stretched over this cargo and wedged into the cleats around the hatch. In addition the deck cargo was secured by ropes over through ring bolts.

The court reviewed evidence given by the two witnesses to the effect that when the vessel cargo and percolating into the hold.

This resulted in an increasing list which eventually caused the vessel to founder.

In its findings, the court depicted the practice apparently followed for many years of not properly battening down the hatches.

In the case of this particular ship it was shown that the crew began to list in the heavy seas as "was headed into the wind and sea, but that this did not remedy matters."

"She was then brought round with the wind and sea astern and an attempt was made to run before them, but it was found the vessel would not steer. Consequently she was again headed into the wind and sea, but the list increased, and a further attempt was made to bring her round and run with the wind and sea astern."

FELL INTO TROUGH.
"It was apparently during this last manoeuvre that the vessel fell into the trough of the sea and, heavily listed, foundered."

One lifeboat was launched with three men aboard and a motorcraft was cut adrift. The lifeboat picked up five men off the raft but for other reasons the motorcraft was without success. The men rowed for 12 hours before making land during this period six of them died of cold and exposure.

The two survivors were found by a trapper named Bert Manning, who took them to his cabin.

HITLER FEARS WEAK SPOTS Russ Claim Goering, Himmler To Groom Italy For Invasion

LONDON, May 11.—(AP)—A Reuters news agency despatch today quoted the Budapest radio in Hungary as announcing that Goering and Himmler had been in communications between Turkey and Bulgaria had been discontinued.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, May 11.—Hitler faced the double task today of speeding the defense of Axis-dominated Europe against the Allied blow, while cushioning the impact of the Tunisian defeat on German morale at home.

Indicating that Hitler considers Italy the weak link in his chain of fortifications across southern Europe, the Moscow radio quoted despatches from Switzerland saying he had entrusted Italy's defense to two of his most trusted lieutenants—Reichsmarschal Hermann Goerring and Heinrich Himmler, head of the Nazi secret police.

Goering will take over the reorganization of the Italian army, the despatch said, while Himmler, through purges among various groups, will attempt to whip up the "maslified men" in that older age group we will be in readiness to do it.

"It can not go further than that."

against French forces. It was repulsed.

The 8th Army made an attack against the hard German fighters southeast of Sasaou, 12 miles northwest of Endjamil, and took 75 prisoners and 12 small field guns, and also made an assault on the right bank of the marshy Soudan river, 12 miles north of Endjamil. The latter attack met desperate resistance.

ONE ENEMY PLANE SEEN.
So completely bottled out was the German air force in this theatre that just one enemy plane was seen in the Tunisian theatre yesterday night in a Focke-Wulf 190 fighter and it was trying to slip away. It was shot down.

The naval section of today's communique said five small boats were shot off Cap Bon yesterday night. Several were caught at sea. It added that many prisoners had been captured. Among them was a German general caught trying to escape. That made seven generals captured.

"Intense naval activity still prevails off the coast of Cap Bon peninsula where last night several German ships were seen closely watched and blockaded and the work continues."

RUNNS BURN SUPPLIES.
Flies who continued to sweep the beaches reported little activity and said the cornered enemy apparently had recognized the futility of attempting to get away, while huge fires blazing along the roads of the peninsula indicated the Germans were burning their supplies.

More than 5000 prisoners were taken by British troops in their lightning thrust across the peninsula, including 600 members of the crew. Hermann Goerring's Regiment which had fought strongly around Hamman Luf from trenches and barbed tanks.

This unit appeared to have lost its nerve along with other units which were surrendering in complete confusion through ammunition and supplies were not exhausted.

Captured along with the flood of prisoners were messages of encouragement sent to the front lines by Hitler and Mussolini.

OPPOSITION CRACKS.
The Nazis had attempted to stop the British drive by using their tanks, drained of fuel, as fortresses, but when the British resumed the assault yesterday morning opposition cracked and Lieut. Gen. Kenneth Anderson's armor swept through to the south coast area with little difficulty.

The tanks reached Soliman, 10 miles southeast of Hamman Luf, six miles to the south, by 5 p.m. and by 8:30 p.m. last night were within six miles of Hamman Luf.

"Our Terms Still Unconditional Surrender"

LONDON, May 11.—(AP)—In response to Gen. Francisco Franco's latest peace appeal, Foreign Secretary Eden today reiterated the declaration that the Allies' terms "are unconditional surrender."

When his attention was called to Franco's Sunday night speech at Almeria, Mr. Eden said:

"I can only repeat what I have said before. Our terms are unconditional surrender. It is not only our terms, but the terms of the German people, the press and propaganda agencies were 'now having difficulty to explain the facts.'"

Der Bund said that the American fighting ability, which had not 'held highly' by Berlin, came a shock to all Axis military leaders, and Europe's neutral press praised the Allied leadership and men.

Hitler's Axis partners seemed convinced that a new Allied blow was in the making.

Virgilio Gayda, writing in the Giornale d'Italia, was quoted by the Berlin radio last night as saying that the Axis "has prepared plans of defense which will become known when the time has come."

Rumanian Premier Ion Antonescu was quoted as saying in a Budapest despatch that his country already has lost 500,000 men in Russia, including prisoners, but faces still greater sacrifices.

The present disposition of Gen. Sir Bernard Montgomery's 8th Army was seen here as probably one of the Axis leader's chief worries. It is known that some of the best units were pulled from the Ain Hallouf area in Tunisia and sent to join the 1st Army in the attack on Tunis.

It Hitler knew whether the remainder of the 8th was still in the Ain Hallouf area, or had been withdrawn to the rear for regrouping and preparation for a new stroke, he might know the answer to the riddle of where the United Nations will strike next.

Another Tunisian question still unanswered was the whereabouts of Gen. von Arnim. Captured German officers insisted yesterday that Von Arnim is still in Africa, but they said that Field Marshal Erwin Rommel left about two months ago because of illness.
