Water

Restrictions MUST BE RESUMED

As already announced, the new reservoir at Gordon Head is now in successful operation and we had hoped that further water restriction would be unnecessary. However, the City of Victoria has now ordered restrictions and, under our agreement with the City, Saanich must co-operate for the benefit of the whole Greater Victoria area. But the new reservoir will insure Gordon Head and Ten Mile Point areas their full share of the water available.

John Anderson Dies

NEW YORK (AP)—John Anderson, 47, drama critic of the New York Journal-American since 1928, and author of books about the American theatre, died Friday. He had undergone a sinus operation Wednesday.

President of the New York Drama Critics Circle, he was recognized as one of the country's foremost authorities on the legitimate stage.

Insurance Against Unemployment to Stay

TORONTO—There will be no headlines in the brave new post-war world, if the public will prefer, and (skeptics please note), the public is willing to pay for insurance against breadlines. In other words, Unemployment Insurance seems here to stay.

The public mood toward various aspects of social legislation has been sounded by repeated nationwide Gallup Polls and have shown that the vast majority of ordinary citizens are today looking at the postwar years in terms of social security. But, realistically, will they be willing to pay for such plans when the time comes? Additional evidence that they will be ready to meet the cost is provided by the results of a poll conducted among a "miniature population" made up of exactly the same elements as go to make up the real adult population of the Dominion. This cross-section of Canadians was asked:

"If, after the war, income taxes are cut in half, would you be willing to pay five cents in every dollar of your (or your family's) income in addition to these income taxes, so that the government could guarantee every Canadian enough to live on if he were out of a job?"

Because the question as to how much the public is willing to pay for jobless insurance could not be answered without some promise as to the scale of other taxes prevailing, a 50 per cent cut in income taxes was arbitrarily assumed, as a base. A 5 per cent charge was also taken arbitrarily, as being probably above the average cost of unemployment insurance today.

On this basis, the public's answer was clear cut:

Yes, 65%; no, 20%; undecided, 15%.

Support of unemployment insurance has, apparently, nothing to do with political party leanings, because the majority shown above cuts through all political boundary lines, as the similarity in the following figures clearly shows:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Pro-Cons.	66%	18%	16%
Liberals	62%	12%	26%
C. C. P.	62%	18%	20%

ON INCOME BASIS

Moreover, there is little cleavage of opinion where one might most expect to find it—that is, among the different economic groups. Upper, middle and lower income brackets all give majority approval to the issue raised in the question, although among the lower income group, which might find a 5 per cent deduction from its income a harder obstacle to hurdle than the upper, the majority is slightly lower, and the undecided group larger:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Upper	68%	20%	12%
Middle	65%	24%	11%
Lower	60%	28%	12%

While more than half of them would vote for it if it were put to a national vote, the farmers are not as wholeheartedly in support of unemployment insurance as the urban worker, for reasons which are obvious:

	Yes	No	Undecided
Farmers	54%	24%	22%
Labour	65%	17%	18%
Business and Professional	69%	19%	12%
White collar	71%	21%	8%

Previously released poll results show that such plans as those envisaged in the Beveridge report and Marsh report have strong backing among that part of the public acquainted with them. Other surveys have shown strong support for health insurance, old-age pensions, and other aspects of social legislation. Today's results, therefore, are consistent with the general trend of public opinion.

Recommend Japs Join U.S. Army

WASHINGTON (AP)—The senate military affairs committee recommended Friday that Japanese be drafted "in the same manner" as other residents of the United States.

In a report based on findings of a subcommittee headed by Senator Chandler (Dem.-Ky.), the committee quoted army spokesmen as saying "We would like to use these people as soldiers." It also said the War Department has satisfactory methods for "screening out the bad ones" and that already more than 7,500 Japanese are in the army.

The committee also recommended:

1. That disloyal Japanese be placed in internment camps.
2. That loyal, able-bodied Japanese be allowed to work under proper supervision "in areas where they will be accepted, and where the army and navy authorities consider it safe for them to go."

Sues Dominion On Japanese Sale

VANCOUVER (CP)—J. Arthur MacLennan, Vancouver barrister, said Friday he would soon petition the Secretary of State for the right to sue the government in Exchequer Court for ordering sale of Japanese-owned property in Vancouver.

If leave is granted, the actions will be launched immediately in the Exchequer Court in Ottawa and may be tried there or at the fall sitting of that tribunal in Vancouver in September.
