

Forced Sale

JAP PROPERTY SALE STARTED

Public auction of household chattels and store fixtures owned by evacuee Japanese is underway today by Thompson & Binnington, auctioneers. The auction is being held at 314 Powell street.

Today's sale marked the second in a series of auctions which began last week and are being held under direction of the Custodian of Enemy Property.

The sale will liquidate property owned by Japanese evacuated from the Coast, and is part of a large-scale compulsory sale plan authorized under federal order, in-council.

HOUSEHOLD GOODS.
Included in the chattels and store fixtures are: Electric washing machines, ranges and stoves, cash registers, bread slicers and wrappers, showcases, tables, chairs, beds, linoleum, mirrors and pots and pans.

Depreciation on the goods being sold has been rapid and the cost of insurance and storage high, said F. G. Shears, custodian of enemy property, in a statement to the Japanese owners. For this reason, he said, it was considered desirable to dispose of these goods.

Good-quality furniture, he said, may still be placed in public storage at the expense of the owner.
