BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Feb. 11— (AP)—An Inugiring-Indiana University scientist says he has concluded old age claims more fish than fishholos do. Dr. William E. Ricker, of the I. W. faculty, said who had no reason to the said, only 21 per other than the properties of the who had no reason to the said, only 21 per ent bit in decisive "hook, line and, sinker "manner. On the strength of Dr. Ricker's claim that most fish would live to a ripe old age, regardless of fishermen, the state conservation department lengthered the season on all fish except trouting.
