Community - antenna television... "We hope to be receiving some pictures on an experimental basis as early as April..."

CJOR is now busy developing the system here. The plan is to erect an elaborate master antenna, capable of receiving on 12 television channels and from it pipe programs by coaxial cable to 10 individual homes.

The community-antenna user does not need an individual antenna for his TV set.

Installation charges for community service in the U.S. range between $135 and $180, with a $3.75 to $5 monthly fee for service. He found on his visit that "The Vancouver today I don't think there are many TV antennas installed for much less than $150."

CJOR has a one-acre antenna site on Burrard Mountain and several other sites in the Vancouver area.

Several master antennas may eventually be set up, to guarantee good reception in various parts of the city.

Japanese Sues To Regain Property

Was the Canadian-born son of a Japanese who fought with Canadians in the First World War an enemy alien in the Second World War?

The Supreme Court suit of Mitsuyoshi Tsuda, 236 Howe, to recover his $1500 boat and houseboat from Silver Arithson, New Westminster fisherman, depends on his answer to this question.

W. W. LePage and R. P. Anderson, counsel for Tsuda, for Tsuda and Arithson, were asked Tuesday to submit written evidence to the court after the judge heard evidence regarding the sale of Tsuda's boat to Arithson, following the Japanese evacuation in 1942.

When he was ordered away to Arithson, Tsuda was told by other-Japanese, Tsuda said he turned his property over to Arithson to be held in trust for him until his return. He offered to repay $200, the price set by the court, but was refused the property to Arithson. It is controlled by Mr. LePage, the Tsuda lawyer, because the Tsuda was merely an evacuee, and that his property was not subject to sale, as was that of enemy aliens.

YOUR MARRIAGE

By SAMUEL G. Auld
ESTHER B. KLING

Q. Can a woman be too good to her husband? A. Yes, she can. She's too good if she spoils him so that he gives nothing—very little—and she gives everything. She's too good if she lets him bog down on his end of the partnership.

Sometimes a wife finds it necessary to work when her husband has had a stroke or had lung. That's all right. But some men don't even make a pretence of finding ways to help.

A wife's too good if she allows her husband to be stingy with the money he earns.

A wife who permits her husband to exploit her is also too good. There are men who can easily afford to have hired help but who insist that their wives do all the heavy housework.

A wife is too good if she stays home with the children night after night while her husband goes out alone for amusement.

Finally, a wife's too good if she takes continual abuse and and insults without standing up for her rights as an individual.

No wife can be too good when it comes to being faithful and considerate, affectionate and kind. But she certainly can be too good when she allows her own welfare to be completely disregarded and her rights to be trampled on.

British Set Price On Birth Papers

Birth, marriage and death certificates obtained from England and Wales now cost 1s 6d, according to a notice received from the registrar-general's office in London.

An applicant who wishes his certificate to be sent by air-mail must pay an extra 3d. And to facilitate any chance of error, the registrar's maiden surname must be given as well as her married name.

Applications should be sent to: The Registrar-General, General Register Office, Somerset House, London, W.C. 2.
