

M. Matsumura,
Cross-Exam.

sold by the Custodian so that I don't know nothing about how much. It all depends on the condition.

Q. Yes, I take it that that would be right. For instance, one net that you claim $160.00 for sold for $140.00, and another net that you claim $160.00 for sold for $50.00, so that I take it it would be the condition that the net was in how much a person would pay for the same?

A: Yes.

10 Q. Have I got this clear now, that your claim for nets is $1000.00 and boat utensils $200.00?

MR. RUSSELL: Yes, the claim is $1000.00 and he received $331.50.

MR. RICE: Less any credits?

MR. RUSSELL: Yes, that is right.

MR. RICE: The full claim is $1000.00 for nets and $200.00 for boat utensils?

MR. RUSSELL: Q: That is correct, Mr. Matsumura?

A Yes, that is right.

20 MR. RICE: Q: Well, with the boat utensils you listed about nine items here that total $100.00 and the other items that total $100.00 you can't list, you say?

A: Yes.

Q Well, a boat as a rule is not cluttered up with a lot of small items, is it?

A Yes, I had them all in the boat before I was evacuated. I had no chance to sell them before I was evacuated.

Q Well, I know, but did you ever make a list of these articles that you are now claiming $100.00 additional for?

A: I just listed

M. Matsumura,
Re-Direct-Exam.

It is kind of hard to tell you that. It wouldn't go by the season, you know.

MR. RUSSELL: QF Well, you show three nets 5/40 ply, size 7, 45 mesh, 200 fathoms long. In other words, they are identical nets, and you valued them at the same amount, $160.00. These nets then would be in the same condition?

A In the same condition.

Q That is all.

10 MR. RICE: And sold for a spread of $90.00.

MR. RUSSELL: I have no further questions, sir.

THE SUB-COMMISSIONER: Any further questions, Mr. Rice?

MR. RICE: Nothing further, your Honour.

THE SUB-COMMISSIONER: All right, thank you.
