Re: Personal Effects

Further to my memo to file July 8th, 1943, it appears probable that there is at least some belongings of these Japanese still at Paldi. Mr. Kenyon's letter of November 3rd, 1942, on file 12143 indicates that much of the effects there are unidentified.

The husband has now (January 17th, 1944) registered a considerable number of effects, but as these are presumably also unmarked we are not much further forward.

Meanwhile everything is safe, and I shall try and look into this on my forthcoming trip to Vancouver Island.
