CHattel SUMMARY

Files Nos. 7323 Toshiko KARIYA #07014
 14710 Ichitaro KARIYA #07013

July 17, 1946

Mrs. KARIYA signed a declaration to the Custodian on April 2, 1942. Her husband, Ichitaro KARIYA signed a declaration on July 15, 1943. The same articles are in some cases listed by both. All chattels have been dealt with on the file of Mrs. KARIYA.

Releases on file cover what appears to be the foodstuffs and containers of effects declared by Mrs. KARIYA. On October 10, 1942, Mr. Matt Brown reported that everything of value had been shipped. on May 25 and June 24, 1942.

When Mr. Good was in Tashme in June, 1946, Mrs. KARIYA inquired about a number of articles. Of these articles the following have been sold: the heater, 4 chairs, broom, one blind, 1 deck brush, the 10-gal. crock and the bed and spring.

The cook-stove and stove pipes were discarded as unsaleable. The 6-gal crock was broken.

The following articles, some of which were inquired about by Mrs. KARIYA on February 24, 1943, and all of which were declared by Mr. KARIYA on July 15, 1943, were not found by Mr. Brown apparently as none of these were inventoried by him: 1 window blind, 2 oilcloth table covers, 1 sack of wool, 1 kiddie cart, 1 garden hoe, 1 mattock, 1 axe, 1 hammer and 2 wedges.

The net amount credited to the account of Mrs. KARIYA from the sale of chattels was $10.24.

In addition to this the net proceeds from the sale of a cast iron heater, sold for $5.00 and incorrectly credited to Mrs. Sadanori KIKUCHI, File 6836, will be transferred to the account of Mrs. KIKUCHI.

It would seem that, as reported by Mr. Brown in October, 1942, everything of value was shipped to this couple, as the articles sold were not of great value, and the cook-stove and pipes were unsaleable.

In regard to articles not inventoried by Mr. Brown, it should be noted that the sack of wool was not reported until February 24, 1943, and the other articles were not reported until July 15, 1943. None of these articles would be of great value.

This summary is certified to be in accordance with information on file.
