Dear Sir:

Re: Shiro OKA - Reg. No. 13599

According to the file of the above Japanese, you have filed a claim of $2073.00 on account of Takashi OKA. No funds of the above Japanese have as yet come under the control of the Custodian, and altogether he has some $3260.00 worth of claims filed against him.

Although he was the registered owner of no real property, his wife owned property on which was built a dwelling, greenhouse and a box factory. Under incorporation of this latter, she transferred her property to the Company in consideration of the controlling shares. This Company has been liquidated under instructions from the Custodian, and if you can see your way clear to legally filing claim against the wife, you should in due course, when distribution of the assets of the Company are made, be able to collect this account.

Yours truly,

W.E. Anderson,
Office of the Custodian.
